Attempted Murder of Man at

Being the Victim, Officers

The Crime.

THE TWO HAD A FIGHT
ON SATURDAY ALSO

Lenzini Broke a Pitcher Over
Ruin's Head and Latter Can Easily be Identified By Fresh Wound. Bullet Removed From Victim's Back

Hardwick, July 20.—Ambushed and shot in the back, Angelo Lenzini lies in the John Holden hospital in a dangerous condition, while his assailant, supposed to be Pedro Ruin, fled and is still at large. The attempted murder took place yesterday afternoon and was the result of a personal encounter on Saturday, when Lenzini whacked his assailant over the eye with a pitcher and inflicted a cut which needed five stitches to close.

Lenzini had only just come to town, so it is said, and he and his friends were having a celebration Saturday afternoon when the first encounter between the men took place. His assailant is a Spaniard. The latter got thoroughly worked in the encounter at the celebration, going down and out under the blow from the pitcher used in the beer party.

The injury rankled in his mind and he laid plans to get even with Lenzini, his chance coming when Lenzini and two companions went out for a walk yesterday. They took the railroad track and Ruin, it is alleged, crept to a hiding-place which commanded a good range of the track. When the time came, he aimed and fired, the bullet striking his enemy in the back. Lenzini's friends made no effort to prevent the escape of the shooter.

The victim was removed to the hospital and the doctors found that the bullet, from a .32-caliber revolver, had entered the back and pierced one lung. The bullet was removed, and to-day Lenzini's condition was reported to be more comfortable.

State's Attorney Hill came last evening in response to a summons and he and Sheriff Winch are after Ruin. The fugitive's capture is thought likely within a short time, as he can be easily identified by means of the recent cut on his forehead. He is said to have been seen in Hardwick last night.

State's Attorney Hill has sent out the following description of the fellow: 27 years old, weighs 180 pounds, dark-complexioned; wore dark-colored clothes and a cap; Spaniard. He is a stone cutter.

PARRE POLICE NOTIFIED.

Got a Telephone Message Last Night About Hardwick Shooting.

The Barre police got a telephone message from Hardwick last night telling of the shooting of Angelo Lenzini and stating that the shooter may have started in the direction of this city. Some of the young Spaniards say that they know Ruin, who is wanted by the authorities as the shooter.

MURDEROUS ASSAULT
ON DEPUTY SHERIFF

His Assailant Is In Jail To Await the Outcome of Attack With Double Bladed Axe.

Rutland, July 20.—Deputy Sheriff F. A. Hayden of Ludlow aged about 40 years was murderously assaulted with an axe at the lumber camp of John Bowen in Mount Holly Saturday morning by Tony Valento, an Italian, whom Hayden attempted to arrest on a civil process. Hayden was rushed to this city by special train for treatment at the Rutland hospital, suffering from an ugly cut on the leg and one in the back.

Valento was arrested an hour after the assault by Constable E. S. Burton of Mt. Holly at the Italian's home, a mile from the scene of the attack. He was arraigned before Justice W. M. Ross of Rutland on the charge of assault with intent to murder and was locked up in default of $5,000 bail, the case being continued a week to await the result of Hayden's wounds. Mrs. Hayden is at her husband's bedside.

Officer Hayden drove to the camp Saturday morning accompanied by E. R. Thompson of Ludlow, for the purpose of foreclosing a chattel mortgage given by Valento, his idea being to take Valento if settlement was not made. After some conversation with the officer the Italian asked Mr. Hayden to put the matter off for some days. This the officer refused to do and the Italian became greatly enraged. He grabbed a double bladed axe and struck Mr. Hayden on the back and leg before Mr. Thompson could interfere, preventing a third blow.

Mr. Hayden fell to the ground when struck and Mr. Thompson after a fierce struggle with the foreigner managed to get possession of the axe. Valento then turned to flee and Mr. Thompson threw the axe at him. It did no harm, however, and the Italian got possession of it again and renewed his attack on Mr. Thompson.

Although prostrate Mr. Hayden was by no means out of the fight. Drawing his revolver, he fired four times at Valento as the man twisted and turned in his tussle with Thompson. One of the bullets took effect in the foreigner's leg and to this is probably due the fact that he did not take flight but went home, walking a mile.

Mr. Thompson received a severe cut on his wrist from the axe.

MURDERED WOMAN
LAID ON TRACK

Train Came Along and Cut the Body in
Two—Strange Revelations at Coalberg, N. J., Yesterday.

New York, July 20.—A strange murder case developed when officials of Hackensack, N. J., examined the body of Mrs. Otella Eberhard, which was found early yesterday lying on the tracks of the New York, Susquehanna & Western railroad, near Coalberg, N. J., discovered bullet wounds. A passing train had cut the body in two.

Otella Eberhard, a daughter of the dead woman, was wounded three times by bullets and dragged herself a mile to an isolated farmhouse. The police are hunting for August Eberhard, a nephew of the murdered woman, believing that he may know something of the crime.

Mrs. Eberhard and her daughter arrived from Vienna last Thursday on the invitation of August Eberhard. The Eberhard girl states that there was an understanding that August was to marry her. Saturday, Miss Eberhard says, she and her mother were invited by August to go to Rochelle park in New Jersey, and that they wandered around there until evening. At the Coalberg cut, she says, she saw a flash between two cars and heard a revolver shot, followed by a series of shots. She started to run and felt that she was hit. Her cousin, she says, ran up to her and urged her to hurry away.

After running with her a few steps, he turned back. Then, she states, she heard more pistol shots. Consciousness left her then. She had been struck three times by bullets, none of which however, caused serious wounds.

She saw her mother fall, she says, when the first shots were fired. Recovering consciousness shortly afterward, she found her way to a farmhouse, whose inmates bound up her wounds and escorted her into Hackensack yesterday. By that time the coroner was working on her mother's case. The wounded girl was taken to the police station, where her story threw light on several phases of the affair.

Miss Eberhard says her mother had $2,200 in United States currency and $300 in German notes when they left for their excursion. The $2,200 was missing when the body was found. The German money was untouched.

The police say that Eberhard, too, may have been murdered, and his body disposed of. Meanwhile, however, they are making every effort to find him if he is alive.

MINISTER WAS REFUSED
AN ORANGE PHOSPHATE

At Brattleboro Drug Store, But Other
People Were Served Temperance
Drinks on the Island Yesterday.

Brattleboro, July 20.—People who wanted soda and ice cream yesterday got it in spite of State Atty. Bacon's campaign for Sunday closing. The Brattleboro places of business were closed, but Charles Oakes set up a tent on the island in the Connecticut river directly opposite the village, and being on New Hampshire territory he was out of the jurisdiction of the Brattleboro police. All day long a stream of people was going and coming and Mr. Oakes did a handsome business.

A minister who was a comparative stranger in town tried to get an orange phosphate in a drug store at the close of his sermon in the morning, but his request was refused, and on being told why the soda fountain was closed, he, being a clergyman said things in temperate and praiseworthy language enough, but vehemently criticized this manner of enforcing the law. At the suggestion of the drugist he promised to take up the subject in his pulpit.

TIED WORLD'S RECORD TODAY

C.M. Daniels, American Swimmer Won the Final

IN THE OLYMPIC CONTEST

That Realized Half Expectations of the American Team Struggling for the World's Championship—English Win Wrestling.

London, July 20.—C. M. Daniels of America won the final in the 100-metre swim in the Olympic contest to-day; his time of 1:05 3-5 ties the world's record. In his heat on Friday Daniels was far and away the fastest, making 1:05 4-5.

The American runners got in from Brighton this morning. They are in fair condition, only, owing to the oppressiveness of the English weather, but they are confident of giving a good account of themselves.

The catch-as-catch-can wrestling matches this morning were won by five English contestants, who defeated five other Englishmen. Mehnert, the American, and Cote, the Canadian, drew bytes. The other entrants withdrew.

To-day's program was the most interesting of the meet from the American standpoint, embracing two events in which they expected to score, in the 100-metre swim and the standing broad jump, and three in which they hoped to qualify for future points, the 100-metre dash, the 400-metre hurdle and the 800-metre run.

ARRAIGNS EVANS
FOR TREACHERY

A Supporter of James E. Burke of West Rutland For Democratic National Committeeman
Tells of His Defeat.

Editor, Times: In behalf of straight Democracy, I desire to make an explanation to all lovers of truth and fair play. It is a matter of history that George Evans of Waterbury Vt. opposed G. Herbert Page in the democratic state convention. He was defeated by a vote of 114 majority by Mr. Page. Evans and his friends then came to Mr. Page's supporters and fairly begged of them to go into the district convention and there elect Evans as a district delegate to the National Convention of the Democratic Party, pledging himself to support and to use his best efforts to elect James E. Burke of West Rutland National Committeeman of Vermont. Now note the stinging integrity, the unimpeachable veracity, and the noble manhood as exhibited by this stool pigeon of the Smalley type of politicians.

He was elected, as requested by the supporters of Burke, who felt that by their action in this matter it would have a tendency, to reunite the democracy of this county that had been estranged and disorganized.

Mr. Evans before leaving Vermont, and prior to leaving Burlington, on the day of the state convention, there played the character of Judas, on the Smalley stage, with Brown supporters as his audience. From Burlington to Waterbury where he made his personal acknowledgment that he was pledged to support Burke. "The Lightning change artist next appeared in Denver, where the Vermont delegates are called to elect a National Committeeman. Seventy-six ballots were necessary; George Evans voted once for Burke and seventy-five times against him. That is how this political Judas, who pleaded for the votes of honest Democrats, kept his pledge.

This article is not written to create discussion and ill feeling, but rather to give this information to the friends of Burke who were certainly in the majority at the convention, also to acquaint them with the character, morality, and integrity of this representative of Smalley politics.

MEMORABLE REUNION
OF GALE FAMILY

Was Held on the Farm Which Has Been in the Hands of Some Member of the Family for Over a Century.

The old Gale farm between this city and Williamstown was the scene of a memorable reunion of the Gale family Saturday, when fifty people representing four generations gathered—probably for the first time, as the farm is just about to pass out of the hands of the Gales, after being in the family over a century. The place was first settled by Josiah Gale when he came from Massachusetts in the year 1800. A reminder of those days was the discovery Saturday of some old newspapers which had been brought by Mr. Gale. These were read at the gathering and served as one of the interesting events of the day.

Th first of the four generations present was represented by eight people, the second by twenty-six, the third by ten and the fourth by two. The day was passed very pleasantly in telling stories and revisiting the old scenes. A basket lunch was served during the day.

ESCAPED FROM BOX.

LeRoy Kenneth Lived Up to His Promise on Opera House Stage.

True to his promise, LeRoy Kenneth, nailed up in a heavy wooden box and more securely imprisoned by ropes stretched taut about the box, gained his liberty at the opera house Saturday night; and the manner of escape of this second Houdini is still unexplained, although the large audience present had their speculations as to the method. It took him 44 minutes from the time the canopy was dropped over his wooden prison until he reappeared, looking in perspiration, but with the box tied up as it had been. He was given a hand.

The box was made by five members of the Argument club, who, agreeable to their name, got into an argument with Kenneth about his inability to escape from a box. On his acceptance of their challenge, they manufactured the box and were then given the privilege of nailing Kenneth in it on the opera house stage before the audience. They hammered home the nails of an apparently living tomb, put strips over the ends of the boards and then wound the box with derriek-rope. He had first been searched by the young men. To further satisfy the audience that he had not gone down through a trap in the stage floor, he rapped from the inside of the box before the canopy was dropped.

The curtain down, Mills, the man with power over other people's minds, sent four subjects through various stunts. The audience kept one eye on Mills and the other on the canopy. Straining of ropes could be heard from behind the canopy, while the five Argument men closely watched from sides and rear. After three-quarters of an hour, lacking a minute, Kenneth walked out, being in sad dishevelled contrast to the dapper dress-suit, youngster who had entered, but free nevertheless. Young Kenneth is ready for further stunts of similar nature.

BETHANY IS
100 YEARS OLD

Montpelier Church Observes
Its Centennial

MUCH HISTORICAL DATA

Program Opened Yesterday and Was Continued Through To-day, the Papers Covering Phases of the Church Work.

Beginning yesterday and continuing to-day, Bethany Congregational church of Montpelier celebrated the centennial of the founding of this organization just one hundred years ago to-day. Many former residents of Montpelier are back to participate in the program, which has been planned for many months.

The opening feature of the program was the centennial sermon preached by Dr. George B. Spaulding of Syracuse, N. Y., followed by a Sunday school anniversary, during which D. S. Wheatley, who has been connected with the school for forty years, read a history. Last night the Rev. J. Edward Wright, pastor of the Church of the Messiah (Unitarian) of Montpelier, whose grandfather was the first pastor of Bethany church, spoke on "The Flock and the Fields." The Rev. Norman Seaver of Rutland, a former pastor of the church, spoke on "The Church, the Past and the Present Relations of the Community."

During the various services of the day a former quartette, consisting of Mrs. W. A. Briggs, Mrs. F. H. Puffer, C. H. Shipman and H. D. Hopkins, sang, with W. A. Briggs as accompanist. The Montpelier Military Band orchestra and the boy choir also furnished music.

To-day's session opened with a meeting of the Montpelier Ministers' association at 10:30 o'clock, at which there was a small attendance. The topic for discussion was, "The Congregational Ministry in the Next Fifty Years," with papers by the Revs. D. H. Strong of Williamstown, G. W. Winch of Barre, J. B. Sargent of Northfield and Donald Fraser of Berlin. This was followed by a general discussion of the topic.

Anniversary exercises were held at the afternoon session to-day, with historical papers by W. A. Lord, Hermon D. Hopkins and Mrs. E. C. Osgood, the first being a resume of the history of the church; Mr. Hopkins' paper dealing with the musical history of the church and Mrs. Osgood's with the history of the women's work in connection with the organization.

AUTO TIPPED OVER
IN PASSING A TEAM

Fortunately None of the Occupants of
George B. Milne's Car Was Seriously Injured, Although Mr.
Milne Got Bruised.

The care which George B. Milne exercised in getting his automobile past a team on his way to South Woodbury yesterday came near resulting very seriously to Mr. Milne and the five other occupants of the big Haynes machine. The machine was ditched and overturned, and the most serious injury was sustained by Mr. Milne, who was thrown against the steering wheel and thus bruised his right side. The other occupants of the car were Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Anderson and daughter, Carrie, and Mr. and Mrs. William Dickey.

Mr. Dickey was being taken to his home in South Woodbury and the party had reached Marshfield when they met a double team. Mr. Milne, who was driving the car, gave all the room possible to the team and got very near the edge, where he stopped. The team drove by and Mr. Milne turned about in his seat to see if everything was all right before starting the machine. As he did so his foot hit the accelerator lever and the car sprang ahead. Before it could be headed right, it had gone over the little embankment by the side of the road and tipped onto its side, throwing the occupants out. Mr. Milne, being seated back of the wheel, was pinned in and was thrown against the wheel by the jar. The others landed safely. For a time it was thought that Mr. Milne was badly hurt, and they sent to Montpelier for physicians.

After a time he recovered, however, and was able to resume his hand at the wheel, the machine not being damaged to any extent by its experience. The party returned home last evening. Mr. Milne didn't get up so early as usual to-day, but he expects that no serious results will follow.

Among arrivals at the City Hotel last evening and to-day are J. A. Baldwin, Burlington; Aaron Beman, Littleton, N. H.; J. J. McCabe, Wrentham; R. P. Shaw, Bethel; W. G. Weare, Burlington; H. C. Brown, New York; J. C. Morrison, F. E. Carleton, St. Albans.

NEARLY 200 PRESENT
AT MASONS' PICNIC

They Know How To Have a Good Time and They Had it on Saturday
Afternoon at Caledonia Park

The Masons certainly know how to have a good time and all put their ability into execution Saturday afternoon when Granite lodge of Masons of this city with their families and Masons from other lodges gathered at Caledonia park for their annual picnic. The Masons and their families, with their guests, made a party of nearly 200 and the order of the afternoon, dancing and games, was well enjoyed. Music for dancing in the pavilion was furnished by Angus' orchestra of five pieces and many couples indulged their taste for the light fantastic during the afternoon. An especially interesting feature of the dancing was the Highland schottische as danced by Mr. and Mrs. James Fraser.

The sports consisted of various quoiting matches, a base ball game between teams captained by J. R. Coutts and William Alexander and a foot ball match between Granite lodge Masons and a team composed of Foreign Masons.

The base ball game which went five innings ended in a six to six score and as both teams were tired of the game it was decided not to play off the tie. The lineup of the teams was as follows: Coutts' team—Coutts, left field; Bradbury, pitcher; Roberts, short stop; McLean, catcher; Blake, center field; Gordon, third base; Brodie, first base; McLeod second base; Ross, right field; Alexander's team—Chesser, pitcher; McMillan, first base; Henderson, right field; Duguid, catcher; Morrison, second base; Hurry third base; Young, short stop; Robertson, left field; Anderson, center field.

The foot ball game was played 10 minutes each way and resulted in a decisive victory for the Foreign Masons, the score being four to nothing in their favor.

COULDN'T ACCOMMODATE THEM.

Couple Applied for Marriage Certificate of Barre City Clerk.

Entering the city clerk's office with his bride-to-be on his arm Saturday afternoon, a young man announced his intention of getting spliced right off. He applied for a marriage certificate and when he got around to give his residence, it was learned that the local office couldn't give him the certificate as he was a resident of the town of Orange. He was told to go to the town clerk in Orange, Flora Peake, and he probably would be accommodated. His bride-to-be was apparently from Pennsylvania, as she spoke familiarity of things in that state. So they departed, after first inquiring the names of the justices of the peace in Orange.

CHALLENGES WALTER

Manchester Infant Wants to Meet
Barre's Little Man.

Barre's diminutive man, Walter Freeman, has got a challenge on his hands from five-year-old Edmond Francœur of Manchester, N. H., who wants to box or wrestle Walter. He agrees to knock the Barre man out in three rounds or floor him inside of five minutes, with a forfeit of a sum of money if he doesn't do the trick. Manchester people are willing to lay considerable wagers that their infantile athlete could "trim" the Barre midget. Walter is 32 years old, but he doesn't size up any bigger than the Manchester five-year-old.
